WORKSHOP SCHEDULE

Morning Session: 9:00 am

Yes, You Can Change Your Family's World

The time is now to learn ...

- How to see everyone in your family — even difficult people, even needy people, even demanding people, even people who lack confidence — in a whole new way that transforms you, transforms them and transforms your relationship with them ... and also, transforms your world together.
- Why THINKING about or FOCUSING on being loving, being compassionate, being non-judgmental, being non-violent, being present, being positive, etc actually blocks you from BEING authentic — and how to cement relationships based on honesty and integrity.
- A simple shift in perspective that transforms every conflict — and even possible conflicts — into a deeper bond.

Afternoon Session: 12:30 pm

Yes, You Can Change Your Child's (Student's) World

The time is now to learn ...

- How to see every child in a way that brings out the best in them. There's nothing to say or do. The transformation comes from how you see them.
- ADHD? Dyslexia? Autism? Asperger's Syndrome? Other disabilities? Overly shy? How every child can become an active, thriving, contributing, indispensable, extraordinary member of society. Not despite, but because of these disabilities.
- How to raise your child to gain an enlightened perspective now.
- How to raise your child so he/she will change the world.

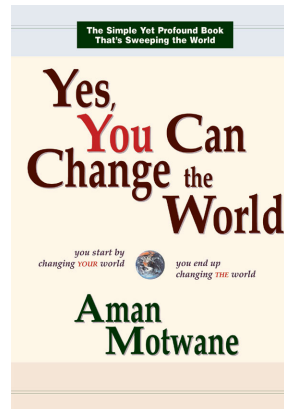

Aman Motwane

Aman Motwane wrote the word-of-mouth phenomenon, "Yes, You Change the World" and instigated iSpreadChange.com.

They say the most profound answers and insights are, more often than not, elegantly simple.

And those two words — profound and simple — perhaps best describe Aman Motwane and his work. These are the two words that will spring to your mind when you read his book, the highly influential bestseller, YES, YOU CAN CHANGE THE WORLD — a powerful wake up call to transform even your most challenging relationships, and thus change the world.

Aman has used the simple perspectives revealed in his book to create profound outcomes in his own life ...

Every miracle starts with an awakening ... and every awakening starts with a fundamental shift in perspective.

The time is here to awaken to a totally new and deeper awareness of love, compassion, non-judgment, oneness, positive thinking, being present, being detached, healing, and forgiveness.

The time is here to change your child's world — and your family's world.

Attend this workshop with Aman Motwane to learn a deeper and simpler way to heal all your relationships, heal yourself, and heal the world — all at the same time — simply by changing how you see the world!
